AGENCY,

For British Columbia and Vancouver Island.

OFFICE: MACDONALD & CO., BANKERS, YATES STREET.

The attention of Shippers and Passengers is particularly directed to the superior facilities the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company's Line affords for the speedy conveyance of Treasure, Goods, and Passengers to and from England to British Columbia and Vancouver Island, in connection with the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Vessels and the Panama Railroad.

The superiority of the accommodation and entertainment on board the Royal Mail Steamers, together with the time occupied on the passage between England and Aspinwall DIRECT being so much shorter than by any other route, and the moderate rate of passage-money, render this Company's Steamers the

CHEAPEST AND MOST EXPEDITIOUS MEANS OF TRANSIT

for Passengers, or for the forwarding of Goods and Treasure from Aspinwall to Europe.

Under an arrangement with the PACIFIC MAIL STEAMSHIP COMPANY, Specie and Bullion can be conveyed to London and Havre in France.

Further information on the subject of Freight and Passage-Money will be furnished by the undersigned.

No. 23, YATES STREET.

1863.

PREFATORY REMARKS.

IN submitting the BRITISH COLUMBIAN AND VICTORIA DIRECTORY FOR 1863 to the public, the publishers have to confess that the work is far from being so complete as could be desired. This is more especially the case with that portion devoted to the Colony of British Columbia—the time allowed for the appearance of the book having been found too limited to admit of the travel and research necessary to embody a comprehensive work on the condition and prospects of that rising country.

The publishers, however, are sanguine that their present attempt to place a detailed account of the British colonies on the Pacific before the world, will meet with such encouragement from the community as will induce them to spare no means in their power in rendering the next edition of the Directory a more complete and better expositor of the position and importance of both Colonies.

THE CITY OF VICTORIA.

At no time since the excitement attending its first settlement in 1858, has Victoria made greater strides, or her prosperity so materially increased, as during the past year. Her true position as the center and headquarters of commerce north of the Columbia, has been placed beyond a doubt. The influx of capital and immigrants from Europe, and the rich and extensive discoveries of gold-fields on the main-land, are the principal causes to which the present prosperity of the town may be attributed.

Since the commencement of the past year her population has at least doubled itself, and the increase of buildings and improvements has been almost in proportion. During the winter season the town is thronged with strangers from British Columbia and elsewhere, who migrate in the spring. Apart from these, the number of inhabitants may be set down at six thousand.

Victoria contains about fifteen hundred buildings—some of them very creditable to the size of the town. Among the public ones are the Government Offices and a Jail. There are several commodious brick hotels, the principal being the St. Nicholas, the St. George, and the Royal. Substantial warehouses and stores are also becoming very numerous. The city is adorned with five Churches—two belonging to the Church of England, one Roman Catholic, one Wesleyan, and one Congregational. A Jewish Synagogue and a Presbyterian Church are in course of construction. There is also a Theater and a Hospital, the latter being chiefly supported by voluntary contributions. The sittings of the Legislature and Law Courts of Vancouver Island are all held in the city. There are two joint stock Banks, and three private Banking Houses.

Until recently Victoria was without a Corporation, but during the past year an Act to incorporate the town was passed by the Legislature. The authorities consist of a Mayor and six Councilors. Effective and speedy measures will now be adopted to complete the grading of the streets, and the laying down of side-walks.

The water frontage of the town has, since the removal of the old bridge, been greatly extended, and several wharfs are now available for shipping above the point where that obstacle to navigation existed. A company has been formed to build a Railroad connecting Victoria with the capacious harbor of Esquimalt, distant four miles. Among other institutions the town can boast of its Gas Works. A company has been also organized to supply the town with water from Elk Lake, a distance of eight miles.

The value of Real Estate in the town of Victoria has increased, in many places, over seventy-five per cent. during the past nine months. Frontage on the best business streets commands a rental of from two to six dollars per foot per month.

The city is a Free Port, and therefore not troubled with customs, duties or bonded warehouses. Vessels drawing fourteen to fifteen feet of water may, under ordinary circumstances, cross the bar of the harbor at high water, and ships drawing seventeen feet have entered, though only at the top of spring tides. A sum of £10,000 has been devoted by the Legislature to the improvement of the harbor.

Steam communication is carried on three times a month between San Francisco and Victoria by the vessels of the California S. N. Company. Every alternate trip is made via Portland, Oregon. A steady and increasing trade is carried on with San Francisco, the Sandwich Islands, Oregon, Washington Territory and the coast of British Columbia. The inhabitants of the latter Colony obtain nearly all their imports via Victoria. The goods exported from Victoria and Vancouver Island are trifling in comparison with the imports; but the amount of gold obtained from the mines of British Columbia goes far to maintain the balance of trade. The exports of the Island consist chiefly of coal from the Nanaimo Mines, lumber from the west coast, furs, skins and fish oil.

The coal measure extends from Nanaimo a long distance north, both along the east coast of the Island and the main land; and several places have lately been found by practical coal miners where capital could be advantageously invested in opening up beds of this mineral. Steam lumber mills are worked at Alberni, a Port of Entry on the west coast, by a British company, and some more mills are about to be erected a little further north of that place by parties who have made application to the Government for the purchase of seven thousand acres. It is probable that the timber trade of the Island will shortly assume great importance, as the spars for ship building have attained an European celebrity.

The fisheries of the inland waters of both colonies have up to the present time been greatly neglected, as it is impossible that the immense numbers of salmon, herring and halibut which exist in them can be valueless for export whilst in such close proximity to the South American and China markets.

The statement of imports for 1862, which will be found elsewhere, shows a very flattering increase when compared with the preceding year. The amount of direct shipments from Great Britain form a respectable figure, and leads one to hope that the time is not far distant when Victoria will become the distributing point of home manufacture for the whole North Pacific Coast.

A somewhat surprising impetus has been given to the development of agriculture in the colony by the number of newly arrived immigrants, who have settled in the most fertile districts in the neighborhood of Victoria. With land at the low figure of four shillings, two pence per acre, and time allowed for payments, together with the improved state of communication between Victoria and the back settlements, we may reasonably hope that the inhabitants of the town will not in future be so dependent on neighboring countries for their supplies of produce.

For a more detailed notice of the trade and institutions of Victoria and Vancouver Island the reader is referred to the statistics hereinafter contained.

EXPORTS.

The principal exports are Gold Dust from British Columbia, and Coal from the Nanaimo mines. A small quantity of British manufactured goods have been sent to San Francisco during the year, and found a profitable market. This trade will no doubt increase, but at present much care and judgment is required in selecting suitable goods. The other articles exported are chiefly Furs, Hides, and Fish Oil. Several large vessels have also taken in cargoes of Spars and Lumber at the Alberni Mills, on the West Coast.

SCHOOLS, ETC.Central School, Victoria, Vancouver Island.

This Institution is located on Fort street, between Douglas and Blanchard. The building, which is neat in appearance, most commodious in its internal arrangements, and well furnished, is capable of accommodating one hundred and fifty pupils of both sexes. It was erected and opened in the autumn of 1861 by the Principal, in order to meet the urgent requirements of the city for such an establishment, at the cost of about $3,000. The school is conducted entirely and exclusively on non-sectarian principles, and on the admirable Common School system of Canada West, both the Principal and First Assistant being first class graduates of the Toronto Normal and Model Schools.

The fees are very low, and the English course embraces a wide field of study. French and Fancy Work, under the supervision of M'dme Petibeu, is also included in the curriculum. The Institution, in fact, was designed, and does, so far as is practicable, supply the pressing need of a Public Common School in Victoria.

The staff of Teachers is as follows:

J. JESSOP, Esq	Principal.
Mr. D. B. CHISHOLM	First Assistant.
M'dme PETIBEAU	French and Fancy Work.
Mr. E. VINCENT	Drawing Master.

Eighteen years' experience as a teacher on the part of the Reverend The Principal, and considerable experience, in their several branches, on the parts of the Assistant Masters, together with University degrees, etc., are a complete guarantee of the thorough efficiency of the Collegiate School staff.

As soon as the necessary buildings can be erected, it is intended to make the Collegiate School an institution for the reception of a large number of boarders as well as day pupils. Meanwhile the Principal is prepared to receive a few boarders in his own house.

The present school buildings (comprising a large well-lighted and ventilated school-room, class-rooms, etc.) stand on the most elevated part of Victoria, adjoining the Church reserve, and are admirably suited for their purpose, being fully supplied with all necessary educational appliances.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY.

This Society was originally constituted in the year 1859, and its projectors, a few benevolent and spirited Scotchmen, being animated by a sincere desire to do good, placed before them as its objects the relief and assistance of any of their countrymen who, while unwilling to cast themselves upon the charity of the general public, might be, by force of sickness, accident or other untoward circumstances, rendered proper recipients of aid, conferred in a kindly manner and in a spirit of deliency, or who might be in want of information and advice upon their arrival in this new colony.

The Society, although at first it felt all the effects of the limited and changeable nature of our population, has gradually and constantly progressed till at the present time the number of its members has reached over one hundred; and amongst those who are interested in its welfare are enrolled the names of many of our most respectable inhabitants—all of whom, more especially its late President, Captain Reid, have contributed largely to place it in its present prosperous condition. Subjoined is a list of the present office bearers; and it is well for Scotchmen to know that upon their arrival here they may, by calling upon any of the officers, obtain reliable information regarding the land they have come to live in, kindly advice as to their future plans, and all the assistance in their power towards obtaining employment, or if need be, temporary relief of present necessity:

THE VANCOUVER COAL MINING AND LAND COM- PANY, LIMITED.

This Company's property at Nanaimo embraces an area of more than 6,000 acres, one-half of which is available for mining purposes. The quality of the coal, already beyond question superior to any on the Pacific coast, would seem by every year's experience to be greatly improving; each new shaft sunk invariably developing coal of a much finer description.

The new Douglas vein in particular, both as regards steam and stowage qualities, is acknowledged by most competent judges to be surpassed only by the best Welsh coal, and that merely by about two per cent.

Through the improvements and additions to machinery, plans, etc., the productiveness of the Nanaimo coal fields has been greatly increased of late; the yield of the last quarter being fully one-third in excess of any previous one.

With the ample provisions made in the matter of wharfs, jetties and barges for loading vessels at all times of the tide, the possession of a good and commodious harbor, and the successful working of the Douglas, Newcastle and Dunsmuir veins, the Company are now enabled to supply vessels with return cargoes of coal suitable for every purpose; and as a large sum has been expended in the purchase of new and more powerful machinery, (now on its way from England) and a further sum of from $40,000 to $50,000, set aside for sinking additional shafts and making tramways to the harbor, the Company will be prepared to meet that demand which the superiority of the Nanaimo coal is daily calling forth.

The large and increasing exportation of coal to California and elsewhere and the growing demand for it in our midst is a sure guaranty that the investment of capital in the Nanaimo Coal Mines will not prove unremunerative.

BANK OF BRITISH NORTH AMERICA.—The Victoria branch of this establishment was formed in 1859. The Bank itself was established in 1836, and has branches in most of the principal towns in British America. The paid up capital is $5,000,000, and the head office is in London. J. G. Shepherd, Esq., is the present Manager of the Victoria office.

BANK OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.—This association was formed during the past year, by parties of influence and position in London, in consequence of the extensive gold discoveries in British Columbia, and the want of banking facilities in that Colony. At present, only a branch exists in Victoria, but as soon as circumstances justify such a step it is contemplated by the Directors to establish branches in the neighboring Colony. Its capital is $1,250,000, in 12,500 shares of $100 each. The head office is in London. James D. Walker, Esq., is the Manager of the Victoria branch.

MACDONALD & Co.—This private banking house has been carried on since the establishment of Victoria in 1858, by its present Manager, Alexander D. Macdonald, Esq. Office, Yates Street.

COLONIAL BANK OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Under the Acts 1857 and 1858, limiting the Liability to the Amount Subscribed.

CAPITAL, $250,000,

In Twenty-five Hundred Shares, of $100 Each,

WITH POWER TO INCREASE.

The want of Banking accommodation by the Merchants, Miners, and general public of British Columbia has long been severely felt, and it is thought that the time has now arrived when the business of the Colony calls for a permanent Bank of its own; and the promoters of this scheme, having full confidence in the public spirit and commercial enterprise of the inhabitants of British Columbia, beg as a remedy to propose:

That a Bank under the above title be established in New Westminster;

That the Capital be $250,000, in 2500 shares of $100 each, a deposit of $10 to be paid on each share on the 1st of February, 1863, $10 on the 1st of August, 1863, and $10 on the 1st of February, 1864; the remainder to be at the call of the Directors—but no call at any one time to exceed 10 per cent. of the amount subscribed, nor to be enforced without three months' notice, nor more than two calls to be made in any one year;

The affairs of the Bank to be managed by a Board of Directors, chosen annually, at a general meeting of the shareholders;

Subscription books to be opened at once, and whenever a sufficient number of names shall be subscribed to fulfill the requirements of the existing laws, a general meeting to be called for the election of Directors, the making of By-Laws for the government of the Bank, and the transaction of such other business as may be deemed necessary.

The business of the Bank would embrace the usual transactions of such establishments, and, in addition, the purchase of Gold in Dust and in Bars—which last branch would prove a very great benefit to Miners and Traders, and, in return, yield a handsome and legitimate profit to the shareholders.

The operations of the Bank would, in the first instance, be confined to the General Office at New Westminster, and, in due course of time, as the extension of business should warrant, branch offices would be established in the different up-country towns.

It would be almost useless to lay before the public of British Columbia the many advantages afforded by having in the Colony a Bank of its own, where the Head Office and subsequent branches would be in the Colony, where the share-list would be composed of its own Colonists, and where the profits arising therefrom, instead of being remitted to Foreign Shareholders, would be handed over to residents, and be again placed in circulation in the Colony.

The profits arising from the establishment, under somewhat similar circumstances, in the Colonies of Canada, Australia, and New Zealand, have been large; and the promoters of this purely colonial undertaking earnestly beg the co-operation and assistance of the inhabitants of the Colony, convinced that, by so doing, they will at the same time promote the public good and their own interests.

Applications for shares to be made to the Provisional Managing Committee, New Westminster, and will be received up to the 5th of January, 1863, when the lists will be closed.

NEW WESTMINSTER AND FRASER RIVER.

NEW WESTMINSTER, the capital of British Columbia, is situated on the north or right bank of the Fraser River, just above the junction of the north fork and fifteen miles in a general north-easterly direction from the entrance proper; it occupies a commanding and well chosen position, being within an easy distance of the entrance, and having great facilities for wharfage, and along its water front a good depth of water and excellent anchorage.

The river bank in some places is somewhat steep, and the country at the back is like all the lower parts of the Fraser River (unless in the immediate vicinity of the entrance, where it is swampy grass land, subject to inundation during the freshets of summer) covered with a dense growth of magnificent pine and cedar; the soil, however, is well adapted for agricultural purposes, and considerable clearings have already been made in the vicinity of the city. There are, also, some large tracts of open grass land on Pitt River five miles east of New Westminster, which, however, is sometimes partially overflowed during six weeks in the summer months.

New Westminster is the only port of entry in British Columbia, and is admirably fitted by its situation to command the trade of the Fraser River. This river in point of magnitude and present commercial importance is second to none on the north-west coast of America. In its entire freedom from risk of life and shipwreck, it possesses infinite advantages over any other river on the coast; and the causes of this immunity from the dangers and inconveniences to which all great rivers emptying themselves on an exposed coast are subject, are sufficiently obvious: a sheltered strait, scarcely fifteen miles across, receives its waters, and the neighboring Island of Vancouver serves as a natural breakwater, preventing the possibility of any sea arising which would prove dangerous to vessels even of the smallest class. To the same causes may be attributed in a great measure the fixed and unvarying character of the shoals, through which this magnificent stream pursues its undeviating course into the Straits of Georgia; and there can be little doubt that at no distant period it is destined to fulfill to the utmost the purposes for which Nature ordained it—the outlet for the products of a great country, whose riches in mineral and agricultural wealth are daily being more fully discovered and developed.

The river, with its numerous tributaries, has its rise in the Rocky Mountains, between four hundred and five hundred miles from the coast in a northerly direction; from whence it forces its way in torrents and rapids through one of the many great parallel valleys which intersect this region, confined by gigantic mountains, with large tracts of country rich in agricultural resources on either side, until it reaches the town of Hope, which is about eighty miles from the mouth of the river. At Hope the river assumes the character of a navigable stream; steamers of light draught reach this point and the town of Yale, fifteen miles above it, during from six to nine months of the year. In June, July and August the melting of the snow in the mountains causes so rapid a downward stream that vessels even of high steam power are required to stem it; but at Langley, sixteen miles above New Westminster, the river becomes a broad, deep and placid stream, and except during three summer months the influence of the flood stream is generally felt, and vessels of any draught may conveniently anchor. The river boats connect with the gulf steamers at New Westminster, and run to Hope and Yale, on the Fraser River, and also to Douglas, situated at the head of Harrison Lake, which empties through the Harrison River into the Fraser midway between Langley and Hope. These are the two main avenues of travel to the Upper Fraser. By the Harrison Lake route, a communication has been established through a long chain of lakes connected by wagon roads to Lillooet, a thriving town on the Upper Fraser, and the main depot for supplies for the upper country. From Yale a substantial and well constructed road connects with Lytton at the confluence of the Thompson and Fraser rivers, (fifty-five miles above Hope) and runs from that point up the Thompson and Buonaparte rivers till its junction with the main wagon road from Lillooet to Fort Alexandria.

The first house in New Westminster was erected by Mr. W. J. Armstrong, on the thirteenth March, 1859, and since that period the growth of the city has fully kept pace with the local requirements and the general development of the country; it now comprises about three hundred buildings, many of them being of a most substantial character, including some fine churches, warehouses, hotels, stores and private residences of the citizens; the engine house belonging to the Hyack Fire Company, a fine Court House and other public buildings are worthy of notice. Columbia Street is the principal thoroughfare, and is a magnificent street, ninety-nine feet in width.

The first wharf was constructed by Mr. J. T. Scott, of the Pioneer Saloon, in the Spring of 1859, and since that time the wharfs have been largely extended along the whole business portion of the city front, and substantial sheds and warehouses erected thereon.

The direct trade with Portland and San Francisco is at present limited in extent, but will, doubtless, assume larger proportions as New Westminster increases in importance.

A joint stock bank, called "The Colonial Bank of British Columbia," has just been formed by some of the leading citizens. Capital, $250,000, with power to increase. Directors pro tem.: Messrs. Holbrook, Cooper and Claudet.

A Government Assay Office has been established for some time; and the machinery for a mint has also been erected and only awaits orders from the Home Government before being put in operation.

New Westminster is the residence of the Government officers, with the exception of the Governor and Colonial Secretary.

The societies of New Westminster are numerous, and comprise a Masonic Lodge, Albion Club, St. Andrew's, debating and temperance societies: there is, also, a hospital, supported by voluntary contributions.

There are three churches—Episcopalian, Wesleyan and Presbyterian—having commodious places of worship, affording ample accommodation for the population, which now numbers from 1,200 to 1,500 persons.

The only newspaper in British Columbia—"The British Columbian"—is published at New Westminster every Wednesday and Saturday, and is ably conducted by the proprietor and editor, John Robson, Esq.

A Municipal Council was established, by proclamation of the Governor, in New Westminster on the sixteenth day of July, 1860, and the city divided into four wards, returning seven Councilors. This act was extended on the twenty-second day of October, 1861, and the city is at present divided into five wards, returning nine Councilors. Since the passage of these acts, the most energetic measures have been taken by the Council for the improvement of the city, and authority given them to raise loans and levy taxes on real estate for that purpose.

The military establishment or camp of the Royal Engineers, a mile above New Westminster, is a most picturesque spot, commanding an uninterrupted view of the Queen's Reach, a broad, deep and magnificent sheet of water. From the Camp to Port Moody, an excellent harbor at the head of Burrard's Inlet, is four miles in a northerly direction. A good wagon road has been constructed to the outer harbor of the inlet, which is a most important work, enabling the inhabitants of New Westminster to communicate with the outer world in the event during a hard winter of a temporary blocking up of the river with ice.

The water on the bar at the mouth of the Fraser River, according to the charts, has an average depth of twenty-two feet, and vessels drawing that amount can ascend the river to New Westminster. At this point the river is from 1,200 to 1,500 yards wide, and much deeper than at its junction with the sea.

It has been asserted that the town site for New Westminster was selected for its military advantages only, which is evidently a mistake. As a commercial position it is beyond a doubt the best that could have been selected, combining as it does all that could be desired, either in a naval, military, or mercantile point of view.

LAW

RELATIVE TO THE SETTLEMENT AND PURCHASE OF LAND.

Proclamation by His Excellency Governor Douglas on the twenty-seventh August, 1861 :

1. The Proclamation issued by me, under the Public Seal of the said Colony, dated the fourth day of January, 1860, and the Preëmption Amendment Act, 1861, and the Preëmption Purchase Act, 1861, are hereby repealed.

II. All purchasers of unsurveyed land in British Columbia, who shall have made their purchases subsequently to the twentieth day of June, 1861, and previously to the twenty-seventh day of August, 1861, shall hold the land purchased under precisely the same terms and conditions of occupation and improvement as are mentioned in the said Proclamation of the fourth of January, 1860, with regard to lands preempted without purchase.

III. That from and after the date hereof, British subjects and aliens who shall take the oath of allegiance to Her Majesty and Her Successors may acquire the right to hold and purchase in fee simple, unoccupied and unsurveyed and unserved Crown Land in British Columbia, not being the site of an existent or proposed town, or auriferous land available for mining purposes, or an Indian reservation or settlement, under the following conditions :

IV. The person desiring to acquire any particular plot of land, of the character aforesaid, shall enter into possession thereof, and shall record his claim to any quantity, not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres thereof, with the Magistrate residing nearest thereto; paying to the said Magistrate the sum of eight shillings for recording such claim.

V. Any person in possession of one hundred and sixty acres of land as aforesaid may acquire the right to hold and purchase any further tract of unsurveyed and unoccupied land aforesaid, over and above the quantity of one hundred and sixty acres aforesaid, and contiguous thereto, upon payment to the nearest Magistrate of the sum of two shillings and one penny per acre for the same, as and by way of installment of the purchase money to be ultimately paid to the Government upon the survey of the same land.

VI. Any person so paying such deposit shall enter into possession, and record his claim to such last mentioned tract of land in manner hereinbefore prescribed.

VII. The claimant shall in all cases give the best possible description of the land to the Magistrate with whom his claim is recorded, together with a rough plan thereof; and identify the plot in question by placing at the corners of the land four posts, and by stating in his description other landmarks of a noticeable character.

VIII. Every piece of land sought to be acquired under the provisions of this Proclamation shall, save as hereinafter mentioned, be of a rectangular shape, and the shortest line thereof shall be at least two-thirds the length of the longest line.

IX. Where the land sought to be acquired is, in whole or in part, bounded by mountains, rocks, lakes, swamps, or the margin of a river, or by some other natural boundaries, then such natural boundaries may be adopted as the boundaries of the land sought to be acquired, and in such case it shall be sufficient for the claimant to show to the satisfaction of the Magistrate that the said form conforms as nearly as circumstances permit to the provisions of this Proclamation.

X. If the land sought to be acquired be bounded by a claim, the line of such claim may be adopted by the person so seeking to acquire, notwithstanding any irregularity in such line which may have been occasioned by the adoption of a natural boundary by the claimant of the adjacent claim.

XI. Where a piece of land is partially or entirely inclosed between two or more claims, the claimant may acquire such inclosed piece, notwithstanding any irregularity of form or disproportion in length of any of the sides.

XII. The boundaries shall run as nearly as possible by the cardinal points of the compass.

XIII. When the Government survey shall extend to the land claimed, the claimant who has recorded his claim as aforesaid, or his heirs or devisees, or in the case of the grant of a certificate of improvement hereinafter mentioned, the assigns of such claimant shall, if he or they shall have been in continuous occupation of the same land from the date of the record aforesaid, be entitled to purchase the land so acquired, or in respect of which such deposit shall have been paid as aforesaid, at such rate as may for the time being be fixed by the Government of British Columbia, not exceeding the sum of four shillings and two pence per acre.

XIV. When the claimant, his heirs or devisees shall prove to the nearest Magistrate, by the evidence of himself and of third parties, that he or they has or have continued in permanent occupation of the claim from the date of record, and has or have made permanent improvements thereon to the value of ten shillings per acre, the said Magistrate shall grant to the said claimant, his heirs or devisees, a certificate of improvement in the Form marked "A" in the Schedule hereto.

XV. Upon the grant of the certificate of improvement aforesaid, the person to whom the same is issued may, subject to any unpaid installments, sell, mortgage or lease the land in respect of which such certificate has been issued; but no interest in any plot of land acquired in either of the methods aforesaid shall, before payment of the purchase money, be capable of passing to a purchaser, unless the vendor shall have obtained such certificate of improvement as aforesaid.

XVI. Upon payment of the purchase money a conveyance of the land purchased shall be executed in favor of the purchaser, reserving the precious minerals with a right to enter and work the same in favor of the Crown, its Assignees and Licensees.

XVII. In the event of the Crown, its Assignees or Licensees availing itself or themselves of the privileges (other than the taking of land required for roads) mentioned in clauses twenty-five and twenty-six, a reasonable compensation for the land taken, wasted or damaged shall be paid to the person whose land shall be taken, wasted or damaged as aforesaid; and in case of dispute, the same shall be settled by a jury of six men, to be summoned by the nearest Magistrate.

XVIII. Priority of title shall be obtained by the person who, being in possession, shall first record his claim in manner aforesaid.

XIX. Whenever any person shall permanently cease to occupy land acquired in either of the methods aforesaid, the Magistrate resident nearest to the land in question may, in a summary way, on being satisfied of such permanent cessation, cancel the claim of the person so permanently ceasing to occupy the same, and record the claim thereto of any other person satisfying the requisitions aforesaid.

XX. All deposits paid in respect of such forfeited claims, and all improvements, buildings and erections thereon, shall, (subject to the appeal hereinafter mentioned) on such cancellation, be absolutely forfeited; and such claims, improvements, building and erections shall (subject to the appeal hereinafter mentioned) be open to settlement by any other person.

XXI. The decision of the Magistrate may be appealed by either party to the decision of the Judge of the Supreme Court of Civil Justice of British Columbia.

XXII. Any person desirous of appealing in manner aforesaid may be required, before such appeal be heard, to find such security as may be hereafter pointed out by the Rules of Orders hereinafter directed to be published.

XXIII. The procedure before the Magistrate and Judge respectively shall be according to such Rules and Orders as shall be published by such Judge with the approbation of the Governor for the time being of British Columbia.

XXIV. Whenever a person in occupation at the time of record aforesaid shall have recorded as aforesaid, and he, his heirs, or (in the case of a certificate of improvement) his assigns, shall have continued in permanent occupation of the same land since the date of such record, he or they may, save as hereinbefore mentioned, bring ejectment or trespass against any intruder upon the same land to the same extent as if he or they were seized of the legal estate in possession of the same land.

XXV. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as giving a right to any claimant to exclude free miners from searching for any of the precious minerals, or working the same, upon the conditions aforesaid.

XXVI. The Government shall, notwithstanding any claim, record or conveyance aforesaid, be entitled to enter and take such portion of the land acquired in either of the methods aforesaid, as may be required for roads or other public purposes.

XXVII. Water privileges and the right of carrying water for mining purposes may, notwithstanding any claim recorded, be claimed and taken upon, under or over the land so preëmpted or purchased as aforesaid by free miners requiring the same, and obtaining a grant or license from the Gold Commissioner, and paying a compensation for waste or damage to the person whose land may be wasted or damaged by such water privilege or carriage of water, to be ascertained in case of dispute in manner aforesaid.

XXVIII. If any person, being already registered as a claimant, register a claim to any other land not being contiguous thereto, the land so previously claimed shall, ipso facto, be forfeited, and shall, with all improvements made thereon, be open to settlement by any other person.

XXIX. In case any dispute shall arise between persons with regard to any land so acquired as aforesaid, any one of the parties in difference may, before ejectment or action of trespass brought, refer the question in difference to the nearest Magistrate, who is hereby authorized to proceed in a summary way to restore the possession of any land in dispute to the person whom he shall deem entitled to the same, and to abate all intrusions, and award and levy such costs and damages as he may think fit.

XXX. This Proclamation may be cited as the "Pre-emption Consolidation Act, 1861."

Issued under the Public Seal of the said Colony, at Victoria, Vancouver Island, this twenty-seventh day of August, A. D., one [L. S.] thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, and in the twenty-fifth year of Her Majesty's reign, I y me,

JAMES DOUGLAS.

OF LAWS RELATING TO MINING.

The mining laws at present in force in British Columbia were made to suit the river diggings on the Fraser, and are not altogether adapted to those since discovered in the Cariboo country. Great discretionary powers are, however, left to the resident Gold Commissioners in the various districts to regulate the size of claims, etc. In the Cariboo district all claims are one hundred feet square. It is believed that the Government intend framing a new Act to regulate the Gold Fields, which will come into operation the ensuing season. The following sections are taken from the "Gold Fields Act, 1859," and subsequent regulations published in conformity with that Act:

III. It shall be the duty of every Gold Commissioner, upon payment of one pound sterling, to deliver to any person applying for the same a Certificate, to be called a Free Miner's Certificate, which may be in the following form:

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

FREE MINER'S CERTIFICATE.

Not transferable.

No.

VALID FOR ONE YEAR.

This is to certify that of has paid me this day the sum of One Pound Sterling, and is entitled to all the rights and privileges of a Free Miner for one year from the date hereof.

Countersigned) A. B.

(Signed) G. B.

(Signature of Free Miner)

(Signature of Chief Gold Commissioner, or Assistant Gold Commissioner, or Justice of the Peace, as the case may be.)

IV. The Free Miner's Certificate shall continue in force for twelve calendar months from the date thereof, including the day of issuing the same, and no longer, and shall not be transferable or capable of conferring any rights upon any other person than the person therein named, and only one person shall be named as a Free Miner in each Certificate.

Such Certificate must be countersigned by the Free Miner therein named before being produced by him for any purpose. And where such Certificate shall be issued to the Free Miner therein named in person, the Gold Commissioner or the person issuing the same shall cause the same to be countersigned by the applicant before himself signing or delivering the same.

V. Every Free Miner shall, during the continuance of his Certificate, have the right to enter without let or hindrance upon any of the waste lands of the Crown, not for the time being lawfully occupied by any other person, and to mine in the land so entered upon.

VI. All persons who shall at the date of this Proclamation coming into force, or previous to the 27th of October, 1859, hold any claim, ditch, or water privilege, must on or before the first of November, now next, and all persons who shall at any time after the twenty-sixth of October, now next, hold any claim, lease, ditch, or water privilege, must within such space of time after first taking possession thereof, as shall be fixed by the rules, regulations, or by-laws for the time being in force in the place or district in which such claim, lease, ditch, or water privilege shall be situated, register the same at the office of the Gold Commissioner, who shall record in a tabular form in a book or books to be kept by him, the name of the holder, the dates of his Certificate, of his taking possession, and of his recording the claim, the name of the mine, and the distinguishing number of the claim, and all such further particulars as shall from time to time be required by any valid by-law for the place or district. And such registration shall be valid for the space of one year and no longer.

Four shillings shall be taken by the Gold Commissioner for the use of Her Majesty, her Heirs and Successors, upon every registration or re-registration of any claim. And no person, not being a Free Miner, shall be entitled to record a claim or any interest therein.

VII. Every Free Miner shall have, during the continuance of his Certificate, the exclusive right to the soil and gold in any claim for the time being duly registered and worked by him according to the regulations and by-laws hereby authorized to be issued, and for the time being in force, in relation to the locality or district where such claim is situated.

No person shall be recognized as having any right or interest in, or to any claim or any of the gold therein, unless he shall be, or in case of any disputed ownership, unless he shall have been at the time of the dispute arising, a Free Miner.

VIII. In case of any dispute, the title to claims, leases of auriferous earth or rock, ditches and water privileges, will be recognized according to the priority of registration, subject only to any question which may be raised as to the validity of any particular act of registration.

XI. Leases of any portions of the waste lands of the Crown may be granted for mining purposes, for such term of years, and upon such conditions as to rent, and the mode of working, and as to any water privileges connected therewith, and otherwise in each case, as shall be deemed expedient by his Excellency the Governor.

XVI. All disputes relating to the title to any mine or claim, or to any part of the proceeds thereof, or relating to any ditch or water privilege, or to any contract for labor to be done in respect of a ditch or water privilege, mine, or claim, or relating to the mode of carrying on the same, or any of them, and all disputes concerning partnerships in any mine or claim, may be investigated, in the first instance, before the Gold Commissioner having jurisdiction as aforesaid, without any limit to the value of the property or subject matter involved in such dispute.

XVII. Provided always, that no Gold Commissioner shall have jurisdiction in civil disputes between partners, unless it shall, in the first place be shown to his satisfaction, that the joint stock of the partnership is under the value of two hundred pounds sterling.

XVIII. Any person convicted under this Proclamation of any offense against the same or any by-law, rule, or regulation hereby authorized, and sentenced to any term of imprisonment beyond thirty days, or to pay any fine beyond twenty pounds sterling, over and above the costs of summary conviction, may appeal to the next assizes to be holden for the district or place wherein the cause of complaint shall have arisen; provided, that such person, at the time of such conviction, or within forty-eight hours thereafter, enter into recognizance with two sufficient sureties, conditioned personally to appear at the said assizes to try such appeal, and to abide the further judgment of the Court at such assizes, and to pay such costs as shall be by such last-mentioned Court awarded. And the convicting Gold Commissioner may bind over any witnesses or informant, under sufficient recognizances, to attend and give evidence at the hearing of such appeal, and the costs of such witnesses shall be allowed and paid by the Colonial Treasurer in the first instance, and, if such appeal be dismissed, shall be repaid to the Colonial Treasurer by the appellant.

XX. If either party, in any civil cause where the subject matter in dispute is more than twenty pounds sterling, shall be dissatisfied with the determination, he may appeal from the same to the Supreme Court of Civil Justice in British Columbia; provided, that the appealing party shall, within four days of the determination appealed from, give notice of such appeal to the other party, and also give security, to be approved by the Gold Commissioner, for the costs of the appeal, and also for the amount payable by the appealing party under the judgment appealed against. And the said Court of Appeal may either order a new trial on such terms as it shall think fit, or order judgment to be entered for either party, or try the cause de novo, and may make such order as to the costs of the appeal as such Court shall think proper, and such appeal may be in the form of a case settled and signed by the parties or their attorneys; and if they cannot agree, the said Gold Commissioner may settle and sign the same upon being applied to by the parties or their attorneys.

XXI. In any case of any cause relating to a mine, claim, or ditch, being brought in the first instance before the Supreme Court of Civil Justice of British Columbia, wherein the sum of damages sought to be recovered shall be less than fifty pounds sterling, it shall be lawful for the Court after issue joined, to direct the cause to be tried before any Gold Commissioner whom the Court shall name, and upon such terms as the Court shall think fit.

XXII. The Gold Commissioner alone without a jury shall be the sole judge of law and fact.

XXIII. The Gold Commissioner shall have the power to cause such parties and witnesses as he shall think proper to attend on any proceedings before him, and to compel the production of documents on any such proceedings.

XXV. It shall be lawful for a Gold Commissioner, in case of any dispute between partners in any claim, ditch, mine, or water privilege, where the joint or partnership stock shall be shown not to exceed the value of two hundred pounds sterling, but not in other cases, to decree a dissolution of partnership and a sale, or valuation, or division of the partnership stock, and to direct the partnership account to be taken before himself, and declare what amount, if any, is due on the whole account by one partner to another, and generally to make such order and give such directions therein as he shall think fit, and to take such steps (if any) as he may deem expedient in the way of taking security, or appointing a Receiver, or otherwise for securing the partnership property in the meantime.

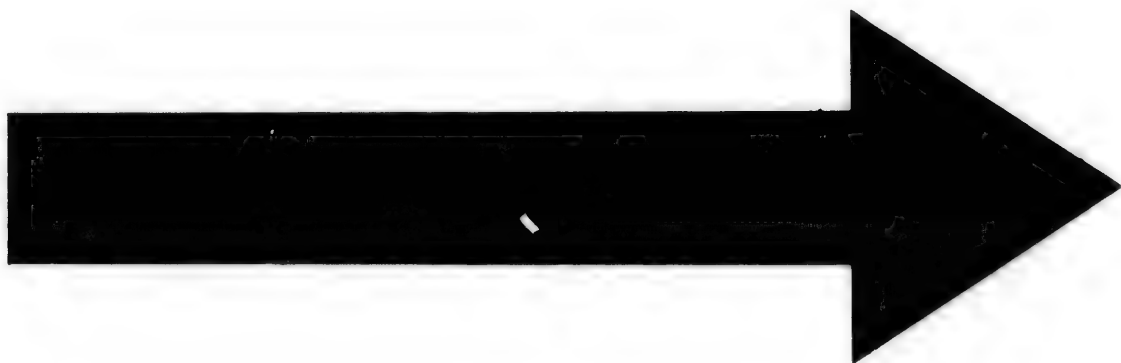

XXVI. It shall be lawful for any Gold Commissioner, upon complaint made of any wrongful encroachment on a claim, mine, ditch, or water privilege, and deposit made of two pounds sterling in his hands by the complainant, to proceed forthwith to the place at which such alleged encroachment has been made, and there and then to demand the like sum of two pounds sterling from the party complained of, and thereafter, on view of the premises, and on such evidence as to such Gold Commissioners shall seem sufficient, to hear and determine the dispute in a summary way, and whether all parties in difference shall appear or not, and in a summary way to cause such encroachment to be abated, and to restore to the person who shall appear to be entitled thereto, full possession of the claim, ditch, or other matter encroached upon, or alleged so to be, and also all gold or other property (if any) which may have been unlawfully taken or removed; and also to award such damages as the nature of the case shall seem to require. And if each party shall have deposited the said sum of two pounds sterling he shall restore the said sum of two pounds sterling to the party whom he shall judge to have been in the right, and retain the other two pounds sterling as for costs of Court; and if either party make default in appearance the Gold Commissioner may make such order as to costs as shall seem to him proper.

Provided, always, that it shall be lawful for the Gold Commissioner, if in his discretion the matter shall not be made clear for a final determination, to take such steps as he shall then think necessary for the preservation of the matter in dispute, and to adjourn the final decision of the case until such time as he shall think proper.

XXVII. It shall be lawful for the Gold Commissioner to mark out for the use of any registered Free Miner in his district a space of land not exceeding five acres, to be occupied as garden ground or for a residence. The right conferred by such occupation shall only endure so long as the occupier shall be a registered Free Miner of the district, and for such further period as shall be requisite for the enjoyment of any crop standing thereon at the period when he shall cease to be a registered Free Miner.

And for attending and marking out such land, whatever be the size, the Gold Commissioner shall be entitled to demand the sum of ten shillings for the use of her Majesty, her Heirs and Successors.

XXVIII. It shall be lawful for the Gold Commissioner to mark out for the use of any person intending to carry on temporarily any trade on or near a mine, a plot or plots of waste Crown land convenient for that purpose, and also for garden purposes, not being larger than one acre. There shall be thereby conferred enjoyment for so long as such trader shall pay all license duties in respect thereof, and also the right to any crop standing thereon at the last payment of license duties.

Provided always, that the land on or near any mine so marked out for any of the purposes mentioned in this or the last section, shall always be resumable by the Crown and applicable to general mining purposes, on six months' notice thereof given by the Gold Commissioner to any occupier thereof.

XXXIX. Any person who shall willfully and maliciously damage or destroy any Free Miner's Certificate, or fraudulently fill up, or post, date, or alter any name, or date, or particular, in a Free Miner's Certificate, or in any document purporting to be a Free Miner's Certificate, or who shall falsely pretend that he is the person named in any such Certificate or document, or who shall willfully and maliciously damage, destroy, or falsify any of the records and registers hereby directed to be kept, shall be guilty of felony, and being duly convicted thereof shall be liable, at the discretion of the Court, to penal servitude for not more than ten years.

Rules and Regulations issued in Conformity with the Gold Fields Act, 1859.

I. In the construction of the following Rules and Regulations, unless there be some contrariety, or repugnancy thereto in the context, the words "Governor," "Gold Commissioner," "Mine," "to mine," shall have the same meanings as in the Gold Fields Act, 1859. The expression "bar diggings" shall mean every mine over which a river extends when in its most flooded state. "Dry diggings" shall mean any mine over which a river never extends. "Ravines" shall include water courses, whether usually containing water or usually dry. "Ditch" shall include a flume or race, or other artificial means for conducting water by its own weight into or upon a mine. "Ditch head" shall mean the point in a natural water course or lake where water is first taken into a ditch.

II. All claims are to be, as nearly as may be, in rectangular forms, and marked by four pegs at the least, each peg to be four inches square at the least, and one foot above the surface, and firmly fixed in the ground. No boundary peg shall be concealed or moved, or injured, without the previous permission of the Gold Commissioner.

III. The size of a claim, when not otherwise established by a By-Law, shall be, for bar diggings, a strip of land twenty-five feet wide at the mark to which the river rises when flooded, and thence extending down direct into the river indefinitely. For dry diggings, a space twenty-five feet wide by thirty feet. For ravine diggings, a space of twenty-five feet along the bank of the ravine and extending up to the top of each bank. In quartz claims the size, when not otherwise established by a By-Law, shall be one hundred feet in length, measured along the vein or seam, with power to the miner to follow the vein or seam and its spurs, dips, or angles, anywhere on or below the surface included between the two extremities of such length of one hundred feet, but not to advance upon or beneath the surface of the earth more than one hundred feet in a lateral direction from the main vein or seam along which the claim is to be measured. All measurements of area are to be made on the surface of the earth, neglecting inequalities. Every claim is to have a distinguishing number marked on its boundary pegs.

IV. If any Free Miner, or party of Free Miners, shall discover a new mine, and such discovery shall be established to the satisfaction of the Gold Commissioner, the first discoverer, or party of discoverers, if not more than two in number, shall be entitled to a claim double the established size of claims in the nearest mines of the same description, (i. e., dry, bar, or quartz diggings). If such party consist of three men, they shall collectively be entitled to five claims of the established size on such nearest mine; and if four or more men, such party shall be entitled to a claim and a half per man. A new stratum of auriferous earth or rock, situate in a locality where the claims are abandoned, shall for this purpose be deemed a new mine, although the same locality shall previously have been worked at a different level. And dry diggings discovered in the neighborhood of bar diggings shall be deemed a new mine, and vice versa.

V. The registration of claims shall be in such manner and form as the Gold Commissioner shall in any locality direct, and shall include, besides the matters mentioned in the Gold Fields Act of 1859, all such other matters as the Gold Commissioner shall think fit to include.

VI. No transfer of any claim, or of any interest therein, shall be enforceable unless the same, or some memorandum thereof, shall be in writing, signed by the party sought to be charged, or by his lawfully authorized agent, and registered with the Gold Commissioner.

VII. Any person desiring any exclusive ditch or water privilege, shall make application to the Gold Commissioner having jurisdiction for the place where the same shall be situated, stating for the guidance of the Commissioner in estimating the character of the application, the name of every applicant, the proposed ditch head and quantity of water, the proposed locality of distribution; and if such water shall be for sale, the price at which it is proposed to sell the same, the general nature of the work to be done, and the time within which such work shall be complete; and the Gold Commissioner shall enter a note of all such matters as of record.

VIII. Unless otherwise specially arranged, the rent to be paid for any water privilege shall be in each month one average day's receipts from the sale thereof, to be estimated by the Gold Commissioner with the assistance, if he shall so think fit, of a jury.

IX. If any person shall refuse or neglect to take within the time mentioned in his application, or within such further time (if any) as the Gold Commissioner may, in his discretion, think fit to grant for the completion of the ditch the whole of the water applied for, he shall at the end of the time mentioned in his application be deemed entitled only to the quantity actually taken by him, and the Gold Commissioner shall make such entry in the register as shall be proper to mark such alteration in the quantity, and may grant the surplus to any other person according to the rules herein laid down for the granting of water privileges.

X. Every owner of a ditch or water privilege, shall be bound to take all reasonable means for utilizing the water granted to and taken by him; and if any such owner shall willfully take and waste any unreasonable quantity of water, he shall be charged with the full rent as if he had sold the same at a full price. And it shall be lawful for the Gold Commissioner, if such offense be persisted in, to declare all rights to the water forfeited.

XI. It shall be lawful for the owner of any ditch or water privilege to sell and distribute the water conveyed by him to such persons, and on such terms as they may deem advisable, within the limits mentioned in their application. Provided always, that the owner of any ditch or water privilege shall be bound to supply water to all applicants, being Free Miners, in a fair proportion, and shall not demand more from one person than from another, except when the difficulty of supply is enhanced. Provided further, that no person, not being a Free Miner, shall be entitled to demand to be supplied with water at all.

XII. A claim on any mine shall, until otherwise ordered by some valid By-Law, be deemed to be abandoned and open to the occupation of any Free Miner, when the same shall have remained unworked by some registered holder thereof for the space of seventy-two hours, unless in case of sickness, or unless before the expiry of such seventy-two hours a further extension of time be granted by the Gold Commissioner, who may grant further time for enabling parties to go prospecting, or for such other reasonable cause as he may think proper. Sundays, and such holidays as the Gold Commissioner may think fit to proclaim, are to be omitted in reckoning the time of non-working.

XIII. Whenever it shall be intended, in forming or upholding any ditch, to enter upon and occupy any part of a registered claim, or to dig or loosen any earth or rock within [4] feet of any ditch not belonging solely to the registered owner of such claim, three days' notice, in writing, of such intention shall be given before entering or approaching within four feet of such other property.

XIV. If the owner of the property about to be so entered upon or approached, shall consider three days' notice insufficient for taking proper measures of precaution, or if any dispute shall arise between the parties as to the proper precautionary measures to be taken, or in any other respect, the whole matter shall be immediately referred to the Gold Commissioner acting in the district, who shall order such interval of time to be observed before entry, or make such other order as he may deem proper.

XV. In quartz claims and reefs, each successive claimant shall leave three feet unworked to form a boundary wall between his claim and that of the last previous claimant, and shall stake off his claim accordingly, not commencing at the boundary peg of the last previous claim, but three feet further on; and if any person shall stake out his claim disregarding this rule, the Gold Commissioner shall have power to come and remove the first boundary peg of such wrong-doer three feet further on, notwithstanding that other claims may then be properly staked out beyond him, so that such wrong-doer shall then have but ninety-seven feet. And if such wrong-doer shall have commenced work immediately at the boundary peg of the last previous claim, the Gold Commissioner may remove his boundary six feet further on than the open work of such wrong-doer; and all such open work, and also the next three feet of such space of six feet, shall belong to and form part of the last previous claim, and the residue of such space of six feet shall be left as a boundary wall.

XVI. Every such boundary wall shall be deemed the joint property of the owners of the two claims between which it stands, and may not be worked or injured, save by the consent of both such owners.

XVII. In staking out plots of land for Free Miners and traders for gardening and residential purposes, under the powers in the said Gold Fields Act, 1859, contained, the Gold Commissioner is to keep in view the general interests of all the miners in that locality, the general principle being that every garden benefits indirectly the whole locality, and also that the earlier application is to be preferred; but where the eligible spots of land are few, or of scanty dimensions, and especially where they are themselves auriferous, it may be injudicious that the whole or the greater part should fall into the hands of one or two persons; and therefore, in such cases, the Gold Commissioner may, in the exercise of his discretion, allot small plots only to each applicant.

XVIII. Any person desiring to acquire any water privilege shall be bound to respect the rights of parties using the same water, at a point below the place where the person desiring such new privilege intends to use it.

XIX. Any person desiring to bridge across any stream, or claim, or other place for any purpose, or to mine under or through any ditch or flume, or to carry water through or over any land already occupied by any other person, may be enabled to do so in proper cases, with the sanction of the Gold Commissioner. In all such cases the right of the party first in possession whether of the mine or of the water privilege is to prevail, so as to entitle him to full compensation and indemnity. But wherever due compensation by indemnity can be given, and is required, the Gold Commissioner may sanction the execution of such new work on such terms as he shall think reasonable.

AS TO LEASES IN LARGER PROPORTIONS THAN CLAIMS.

XX. Applications for leases are to be sent in triplicate to the Gold Commissioner having jurisdiction for the locality where the land desired to be taken is situated. Every such application shall contain the name and additions of the applicant at full length, and the names and addresses of two persons residing in the Colony of British Columbia or Vancouver Island, to whom the applicant is personally known. Also a description accompanied by a map of the land proposed to be taken.

XXI. Leases will not be granted in general for a longer term than ten years, or for a larger space than ten acres of alluvial soil, (dry diggings) or half a mile in length of unworked quartz reef, or a mile and a half in length of quartz, that shall have been attempted and abandoned by individual claim workers, with liberty to follow the spurs, dips, and angles, on and within the surface, for two hundred feet on each side of the main lead or seam, or in bar diggings, half a mile in length (if unworked) along the high water mark, where the same shall have been attempted and abandoned by individual claim workers.

XXII. Leases as above will not in general be granted of any land, alluvium or quartz, which shall be considered to be immediately available for being worked by Free Miners, as holders of individual claims. Nor will such a lease in any case be granted where individual Free Miners are in previous actual occupation of any part of the premises, unless by their consent.

XXIII. Every such lease shall contain all reasonable provisions for securing to the public rights of way and water, save in so far as shall be necessary for the miner-like working of the premises thereby demised, and also for preventing damage to the persons or property of other parties than the lessee. And the premises thereby demised shall be granted for mining purposes only; and it shall not be competent for the lessee to assign or sub-let the same, or any part or parts thereof without the previous license in writing of the Gold Commissioner. And every such lease shall contain a covenant by the lessee to mine the said premises in a miner-like way, and also, if it shall be thought fit, to perform the works therein defined within a time therein limited. And also a clause by virtue whereof the said lease and the demise therein contained may be avoided in case the lessee shall refuse or neglect to observe and perform all or any of the covenants therein contained.

XXIV. Every applicant for a lease, shall at the time of sending in his application, mark out the ground comprised in the application by square posts firmly fixed in the boundaries of the land, and four feet above the surface, with a notice thereon that such land has been applied for, stating when and by whom, and shall also fix upon a similar post at each of the nearest places on which miners are at work, a copy of such notice.

XXV. Objections to the granting of any such lease shall be made in writing, addressed to His Excellency the Governor, under cover to the Gold Commissioner, who shall forward all such objections, together with his Report thereon.

XXVI. Every application for a lease shall be accompanied by a deposit of twenty-five pounds sterling, which shall be refunded in case the application shall be refused by the Government; and if the application shall be entertained, then such sum of twenty-five pounds shall be retained for the use of Her Majesty, her heirs and successors, whether the application be afterwards abandoned or not.

THE NATURALIZATION OF ALIENS.

Law enabling Foreigners or Aliens to acquire the Rights and Privileges of British Subjects whilst residing within the Colony of British Columbia.—From the "Aliens Act, 1859."

1. Every alien now residing or who may hereafter come to reside in the said Colony with intent to settle therein, and who shall have actually resided therein, or in the adjacent Colony of Vancouver Island, or partly in the one Colony and partly in the other, for a continuous period of three years, without having been, during any portion of that time, a stated resident in any foreign country out of Her Majesty's dominions, shall be entitled to procure himself to be naturalized in manner hereinafter described.

2. Every alien desirous of becoming so naturalized shall procure a declaration of residence and character, to be made and subscribed by some British subject. Such alien shall, in the next place, make and subscribe a declaration of residence, and shall also take the oath of allegiance to Her Majesty and Her Successors.

3. Every such declaration and oath may be taken, made and subscribed before any Justice of the Peace, acting in any part of the Colony of British Columbia, or before any person appointed by Her Majesty to be a Judge in British Columbia. Every such declaration and oath shall be forthwith delivered to such alien, with the certificate at the foot thereof, signed by such Justice of the Peace, or by the Registrar of the said Judge, stating the compliance on the part of the said alien with the regulations hereinbefore contained.

4. It shall be lawful for the said alien to present all the said documents, properly subscribed and filled up as aforesaid, in open Court, on the first day of any Assizes or general sittings of the Court of British Columbia, in any place in the said Colony. And all such documents shall be then read aloud in open Court; and it shall be lawful for the said Court, on the last day of the said Assizes or general sittings, to order all the said documents and proceedings to be entered as of record in the said Court. And thereupon, such alien shall be admitted and deemed, while within the said Colony of British Columbia, to be thenceforth a British subject, to all intents and purposes whatever, and to hold, enjoy and transmit all property, rights and capacities, in the same manner as if born within Her Majesty's dominions.

8. Every alien shall have the same capacity to take, hold, enjoy, recover, convey and transmit title to lands and real estate of every description, in this Colony, as if he were, at the time of the passing of this Act, a natural born British subject; and no person shall be disturbed in the possession or precluded from the recovery of any lands or real estate in this Colony by reason only that some person from or through whom he may derive title was an alien.

BUTE INLET WAGON ROAD COMPANY, LIMITED.

Bank of British Columbia.	Bankers.

Capital, $60,000, with power to increase the same to $220,000.

This Company is established under a promise of charter granted March 28th, 1862, to Alfred Waddington, Esq., of Victoria, in consideration of the discovery of the above route and of its practicability, and conveying the right of levying a toll, not exceeding five cents per pound, on all goods and merchandise, and a duty on all animals or cattle for a period of five years from the completion of the first fifty miles of wagon road, together with the right of preëmpting ten lots of ground of ten acres each at ten different stations on the road, which is to be finally completed before the first of July, 1864.

The Bute Inlet Route is thought by its projectors to be by far the shortest and easiest road to the mines. It passes for forty miles through the mountains of the Cascade range, at an apparently dead level, and thence through a fertile plain to the Fraser above the junction of either the Quesnelle or Swift Rivers. The lower part of the river, which is called the Homathco, is at present obstructed by drift wood, but which when removed will render it navigable for about twenty-five miles, and on reaching the plain above the mountains forty miles from the head of the inlet the river becomes again navigable together with the lake from which it flows (and which is thirty miles long) for ninety miles more. The proposed town at the head of the inlet is situated on a dry flat of 1,200 acres or more, about a mile from the mouth of the river, with a water frontage from twenty to twenty-two feet deep and accessible for vessels drawing less than twelve feet; besides which, a road of about a mile in length connects with the head of the inlet, where ships of any burden can unload in safety. The town site is to be laid out by the Government and sold in the Spring. The valley itself is in general heavily timbered, but presents several square miles of prairie ground and patches of good cultivable soil.

The main features in favor of the road by Bute Inlet are: its shortness (one hundred and eighteen miles of land travel against two hundred and thirty-five miles by the Fraser route); the absence of all mountains or even eminences worth mentioning; the comparative small number of loadings and unloadings (five against fourteen); its dry soil and the absence of swamps; the comparative mildness of the climate; and the facility of approach (one hundred and eighty-five nautical miles) and safety of navigation from Victoria. Twenty-three miles of the road from the head of the inlet were opened last autumn, and the remainder of the route through the Cascade mountains surveyed and partially cleared. The Company will be able to open a trail for pack mules before the month of June.

METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS.

There were slight frosts nearly every night in the month of April, and once in May, (16th); they did not recommence until the ninth of October. The severe frosts of January and February have been unknown for many years.

Thunder and lightning occurred on the twenty-fourth of May, twenty-fourth of July, and twenty-second, twenty-ninth, and thirtieth of August.

Rain fell on eight days when the wind was south; eight when south-west; three when west; five when north-west; eight when north-east; forty-three when east; twenty-six when south-east, and thirty-eight when calm. The greatest fall of rain in twenty four hours measured 2·260 inches, and was on the twentieth of March. The average fall for every day of the year was 0·130 inches, and for each wet day was 0·352.

Rain was more equally distributed throughout all the months this year than in 1860 or 1861.

In the winter months, January to March, and October to December, 31·682 inches of rain fell in 1862; in 1861, 41·230, and in 1860, 40·586 inches. In the remaining months in 1862, 15·785; in 1861, 19·255, and in 1860, 13·834 inches.

The prevailing direction of the wind during rain in each year was east and south-east. The absolute limiting nights of frost in the three years were nearly the same.

DOUGLAS.

THE Town of Douglas is beautifully situated at the head of Harrison Lake, and does a large business in forwarding goods to the interior via Lillooet. Several firms doing an extensive forwarding business have establishments there. Steam communication is carried on with the Fraser and New Westminster via Harrison River. Stages run on the wagon road between Douglas and Lillooet, and steamers ply daily on the lakes, thus enabling an easy and expeditious route for travelers. The distance between Douglas and New Westminster is about ninety miles. The following are some of the principal residents:

BAAR & TESCH, packers and merchants.
 Baccagillupi & Co., packers and merchants.
 Coxon & Co., packers and merchants.

LILLOOET.

LILLOOET is a place of some importance on the Fraser, about two hundred and twenty miles from its mouth. A wagon road has been lately made by G. B. Wright & Co., under a charter from the Government, from Lillooet to William's Lake, a distance of one hundred and sixty-five miles. Lillooet is connected with Douglas by a chain of lakes on which steamers are plying, and by wagon roads on the portages. The town has, during the last twelve months, rapidly increased in population and importance. A bridge will shortly be constructed across the river to Parsonville, where the wagon road commences. There is good grazing and a small quantity of farming land in the vicinity of the town. The following are among the inhabitants:

YALE.*

THIS place is the head of steamboat navigation on the Fraser, and is situated at the mouth of what is known as the Little Cañon, 105 miles from the entrance of the river. Since the Frazer River excitement of 1858, Yale has always been a bustling, busy little town, and notwithstanding the competition of the Douglas route, that via Yale has always retained its popularity. The great Government Works which have been carried on in the valley of the Fraser above Yale, during the past summer, have had a very beneficial effect on the prosperity of the place, and caused a considerable rise in the value of lots in the town. By the middle of next May a road, passable for wagons, will have been completed from Yale to William's Creek, a distance of at least two hundred and sixty miles. The road from Yale to Lytton, (sixty-three miles) which goes through the precipitous channel of the Fraser known as the Big Cañon, has been constructed at a great cost to the Colony. From Yale to Pike's Rifle, a distance of six miles and six chains, the road was built by the Royal Engineers; from Pike's Rifle to Chapman's Bar, a distance of eight miles, by Mr. Trutch for $47,000; from Chapman's Bar to Boston Bar, eleven to twelve miles, by Messrs. Spence and Trutch for $75,000; from Boston Bar to Lytton, thirty-two and a half miles, by Mr. Spence for $88,000. The engineering difficulties encountered in carrying out the above work have been considerable, and a bridge has yet to be thrown across the river before the chain of communication is completed. There is no doubt that this will always be one of the main roads into the interior of the country.

* Owing to the list of inhabitants of Yale not having come to hand in time, we are unable to give their names to the public.

CARIBOO.

THE district known as Cariboo was first discovered to be auriferous in the latter part of the year 1860.

To some miners, who were amongst those who arrived in 1858 at the earlier diggings on the Fraser River, the discovery of gold in large quantities is to be attributed. These men, undeterred by unusual difficulties and hardships consequent on the extremely rugged and mountainous character of the country through which they had to pass, succeeded in following the course of the Fraser a distance of three hundred miles, there arriving at the mouth of the Quesnelle River, which flows into the Fraser thirty miles above Fort Alexandria, a trading post of the Hudson Bay Company. Having ascended that river and finding gold on the bars and flats they reached the forks of Quesnelle ninety miles above its mouth. Both the north and south forks take their rise in extensive lakes, which are themselves the reservoirs of numerous streams draining an immense extent of country. Gold has been found on the south fork of Quesnelle and also on Horsefly Creek, which runs into the South Fork Lake.

The latter creek was deserted last season, owing to the miners being unable to get down through the blue clay, but it is the intention of several companies to return with larger resources and better mining appliances during the ensuing season, as they entertain great anticipations of success. The gold-bearing formation has not been traced in the section of country immediately to the southward of Horsefly Creek and the south fork of Quesnelle River; it appears, however, that the range of gold-bearing hills crosses the north fork of the Columbia River near to its head; and from the quantity of float gold found in the tributaries of that river, which comes in from an easterly direction, it is probable the gold-bearing range continues its course south parallel with the main chain of the Rocky Mountains into a district similar in its geological features to the Cariboo country south of the Thompson River; it is very evident that the Columbia must be crossed, and the country to the eastward of it explored, the ground between the Fraser and Columbia Rivers having been already prospected.

Some rich specimens of gold-bearing quartz were brought to Victoria from the head waters of the Kootanie River near the foot of the Rocky Mountains by some members of the British Boundary Commission, and all the parties who have traversed these districts agree that the indications of a rich gold-bearing formation are very palpable.

Gold has been taken out of the north fork of Quesnelle River in large quantities, and during the Spring of 1862 preparations on a large scale were made by wing-damming the stream in many places to abstract the auriferous deposits from its very center; owing, however, to an unprecedentedly early rise of its waters from the thawing of the snow on Keithley's Creek and the numerous streams which discharge their waters into Cariboo Lake (the source of the north fork of Quesnelle River) the wing-dams and waterwheels of the miners were all swept away and with them the results of several months' arduous labor during the most severe portion of the winter. Three miles from the head of the north fork of Quesnelle River across Cariboo Lake is the mouth of Keithley's Creek, and here commences the district which is now known all the world over as the Cariboo country; this creek, with Harvey and Goose Creeks also running into Cariboo Lake, were partially worked during the Fall of 1860. The striking of these creeks was the consummation of the hopes and labors of the hardy men who since 1858 had with never failing energy followed the golden course of the Fraser in search of the rich primitive deposits which a ripened mining experience had assured them existed in some part of the country through which that river pursues its course.

During the month of January, 1861, rich prospects were discovered on Antler Creek, twenty miles from the mouth of Keithley's Creek, across a portion of the range of Bald Mountains which are situated in a large bight or bend of the Fraser River, which rising in the Rocky Mountains runs in a north-west direction until a point above Fort George when its course is to the southward and westward. The main features of this country consist of a large range of mountains, generally heavily timbered, but some of them are remarkable from being only partially covered with timber and form the highest points in the range. The highest point yet explored was found to be 8,400 feet above the level of the sea, the general altitude being about 5,000 feet. This range forms the watershed of Bear, Swift, Quesnelle and other of the largest tributaries of the Fraser. Antler Creek, a tributary of Bear River, formed the main point of attraction during the Summer of 1861; but in the fall of that year the heavy deposits found on Williams, Louhie and other creeks, and the promising prospects obtained on Lightning Creek, one of the largest tributaries of Swift River, gave an immense impetus to the naturally energetic efforts of the miners, and the country was traveled over, if not thoroughly prospected, for a distance of fifty miles round Antler Creek.

About 1,500 miners were in the Cariboo country during the season of 1861, and the yield of gold has been estimated at $2,000,000. During the early part of this season provisions were packed in from the forks of Quesnelle to Antler Creek by Indians, and the price ranged from eighty-five cents to one dollar per pound; but by the month of July trails were constructed and pack trains brought in, and during the latter part of the season the provisions were sold at from fifty-five cents to sixty-five cents per pound. Beef, which in the early part of the season was fifty cents, was reduced to twenty cents in the latter part of the season. In the early part of the year 1862, a large emigration from California, Canada and Europe, attracted by the results of the mining season of 1861, flocked to the mines; and it is estimated that 10,000 persons started for Victoria, one-half, however, of whom, deterred by the difficulties of the way, did not succeed in reaching the mining country. This immense crowd coming after an unusually hard winter, during which the transportation was much impeded, almost caused a famine at the mines, and a large quantity of provisions, which in an ordinary year would have reached their destination, was consumed on the road by these unfortunate adventurers. This was a great drawback on the labors of the experienced miners, many of whom lost much valuable time during the already too limited season in traveling after provisions, which ranged in price, up to the beginning of August, from one dollar to one dollar fifty cents per pound, and were often almost unobtainable. Many hundreds of claims were thus prevented from being worked during the season, but general confidence in the resources of the country remained unimpaired. Notwithstanding all these drawbacks, the country was still further prospected, and many more new creeks struck. It has been estimated that 5,000 persons were in the mining section of the country; many of whom, however, owing to inexperience and other causes, did not contribute any quota towards the yield of gold, which, at a moderate computation, amounted to upwards of $3,000,000. The yield of gold on Antler Creek last season was not so great as was anticipated; and Keithley's Creek, with the exception of the tunnel and hydraulic claims at the mouth of the creek was worked with indifferent success.

On William's Creek the rich deposits found in 1861 in the bed of the creek were found to hold out, and many new claims, both in the creek and banks adjoining, were opened and yielded rich returns. All previous discoveries were eclipsed by the finding, towards the close of the season, of very rich diggings in a large flat below the cañon at a depth of from fifty to sixty feet from the surface. Old channels were struck, and the lead has been traced a quarter of a mile along the flat; from two hundred to three hundred ounces per day have been taken out of some of the rich claims above the cañon during the last two years, but it is anticipated that even this yield will be exceeded during the coming season, and that these diggings will vie in richness with any yet discovered in California or Australia. The late discoveries in William's Creek resemble in character the Ballarat diggings to a greater extent than any yet discovered on this coast; and it is expected that this creek will give employment to 4,000 or 5,000 miners during the coming season. Hill diggings were struck in the early part of the season on Last Chance, a tributary of Lightning Creek; and Van Winkle, Davis, Anderson and other gulches on the same creek paid well during the season.

Lightning Creek, during the greater portion of its course, runs through wide and deep flats, and from its size and sudden freshets to which it is liable, presents many obstacles to speedy and successful working; in those parts of its course, however, where it runs through cañons, and owing to its comparative shallowness from the surface to the bed-rock, it presents fewer obstacles, and the result has been highly successful and many rich claims have been opened. Besides these, many other creeks were worked, and with great success, amongst which may be mentioned Burns, Lowhie, Nelson, Sugar, and Willow Creeks. Most of these creeks head in the range of Bald Mountains, and these are remarkable for the vast number of quartz veins which they contain, which will undoubtedly be found to contain auriferous deposits when the country is sufficiently developed to allow the mining capitalists to undertake enterprises having other results than the exigencies of the moment in view.

The greatest drawback to the general progress of the country and the individual success of the miner hitherto, has been owing to the want of cheap and unfailing communication between the sources of supply and the mines, but during the last season energetic measures have been taken by Government to inaugurate a different state of affairs. Upwards of $350,000 have been expended in the construction of wagon roads, which, on their completion during the ensuing season, will reflect credit both on the Government and the hardy pioneers whose early hardships and struggles have rendered such magnificent undertakings a possibility. These roads start from two points, viz: Yale and Lillooet, on the upper Fraser. The road from Yale to its junction with the main trunk road from Lillooet, has been constructed under the immediate supervision of Capt. Grant, of the Corps of Royal Engineers, and is probably the finest public work on the Pacific Coast. Vast sections of the road have been blasted along the face of precipitous rocks, where five years ago the construction of even a mule trail was a matter of speculation. Thirteen miles above Yale the road will cross the river, and a contract for the construction of a bridge at that point has been taken and will be completed early this season; from thence it runs to Lytton at the confluence of the Thompson and Fraser rivers (passing along the face of the cañon so famous in the early days of Fraser river adventure), and after passing up the Thompson and Buonaparte rivers, forms a junction with the main road about fifty miles from Lillooet.

The road from Lillooet (which is the terminus of what is called the Harrison Lake or Douglas route) will be connected with Parsonville, on the east side of the Fraser, by a bridge, and runs along the Fraser about twenty miles to Pavilion Creek; thence over the Pavilion Mountain, and after its junction with the road from Lytton, proceeds through Cut-off-Valley and a generally level country to William's Lake. At this point the old and most generally used trails pass via Beaver Lake to the Forks of Quesnelle; from thence up the north fork via the mouth of Keithley's Creek into the Cariboo country. It is considered, however, that the best route is by Fort Alexandria, and the wagon road will probably be constructed to that point during the coming season. A steamer was constructed last year at Fort Alexander to ply between that point and the mouth of Quesnelle River; and trails run from thence to the mouth of Lightning Creek, and up that creek to the head of the Cariboo country. The construction of these works will, without doubt, so reduce the cost at the mines of all kinds of supplies as to enable the country to be thoroughly explored and prospected, the results of which will probably surpass the most sanguine expectations.

THE PEACE RIVER MINES.

At the present moment, when these new gold fields are attracting so much attention among the mining population of the Pacific Coast, a short statement of what has been discovered there, and of what is known respecting that portion of the country, will doubtless prove interesting to the public.

The Finlay Branch of Peace River forms the northern boundary of British Columbia, and is situated in about latitude fifty-six degrees north. It flows east through the Rocky Mountains, and empties its waters into the Mackenzie River via the Great Slave Lake. The route which has hitherto been traveled by the few miners who have penetrated there from Cariboo, is from the mouth of Quesnelle River up the Fraser to Fort George, a distance of one hundred miles; thence up Stuart's River by water to Fort St. James, one hundred and fifty miles; from Fort St. James a portage of eighty miles over a good Hudson Bay Company's pack trail, brings the traveler to Fort McLeod, on McLeod's Lake; on descending McLeod's River for twenty-five miles, the Peace River is reached, one hundred miles above its junction with the Finlay branch, which comes in from the north-west in the immediate vicinity of the pass in the Rocky Mountains through which the river flows in a due east course. This would give a distance of three hundred and fifty-five miles from Quesnelle to Peace River, and four hundred and fifty-five miles to the Finlay branch, on which the best diggings have been struck. With the exception of the eighty miles portage, the entire route is by water; it is, however, asserted on good authority that a much nearer road can be taken, and McLeod's Lake reached from the Fraser without going round by Fort Stuart.

In the year 1861, Edward Carey and W. Cust, two miners from the Quesnelle River, descended Peace River for two hundred miles. The descent was made in a canoe during high water, which is in the month of June. They returned as soon as the water fell low enough to enable them to prospect the bars, and prospected the entire journey back. Gold was discovered in paying quantities on all the bars, with the exception of those situated within the pass in the Rocky Mountains. Owing to the want of provisions they had to return to McLeod's Lake, bringing with them the sum of $1,000. This was obtained by working for a day or two on those bars which presented the least difficulties to get at whilst on their way back. The highest day's work made was sixty-five dollars to the hand.

Messrs. Carey and Cust wintered that year at the mouth of the Quesnede, but before the winter set in they took the precaution to return to McLeod's Lake and store at the Hudson Bay Fort a sufficient quantity of provisions to last five men for the ensuing season. In the month of June, which they consider much too late, they reached the Peace River again, in company with three others, named Peter Toy, Joseph Oates, and Ezra Evans. They did fifty days washing, and spent the rest of the season prospecting, returning in the month of October with $1,200 each. They found scarcely a single bar which did not pay from ten to fifteen dollars to the hand for a fair day's work. After working fifty days on the main river, they ascended the Finlay branch for a distance of twenty miles from its junction with the former stream, and found still better prospects than ever. They intend returning to the Finlay this spring, some of the company having returned to Fort McLeod and stored a quantity of provisions.

During the latter part of the season of 1862 five more men made their appearance on Peace River. Four were in one company and did about twelve days' washing, taking out nearly $1,000. The remaining prospector arrived just in time to return in search of winter quarters, and, consequently, did not make much by his expedition. The gold found is somewhat heavier than that on the Fraser, and is what is known as sealy surface gold.

The main Peace River has a very similar appearance to the upper Fraser at Alexandria, with the exception that the banks are generally lower. The gravel appeared to the prospectors much firmer and better looking. There is some good agricultural land along the river on both slopes of the Rocky Mountains. Plenty of moose, cariboo and beaver were seen by the miners, who unfortunately had no weapons with them.

This is up to the present time all that is known of what promises to become one of the best and most extensive mining districts in British Columbia. Only two miners were there in 1861, and but ten in 1862. Of the truth of their reports there can be but little doubt, as the gold they brought down was seen by many citizens in Victoria. The mining season on Peace River will be longer than in Cariboo, as, although some distance further north, yet the elevation must be considerably less. Should the season of 1863 prove by its results that Peace River is indeed the rich country it is at present thought to be, surely the Government will not allow its discoverers, Messrs. Carey & Cust, who penetrated five hundred miles into a comparatively unknown country, to go unrewarded.

THE TERRITORY OF STICKEN.

IN consequence of the discovery of gold on the bars of a large river emptying itself into the Pacific Ocean, in latitude fifty-eight degrees north, flowing through the belt of land (thirty miles in breadth) which the Russians own on the coast, north of fifty-four degrees, forty minutes, the Home Government determined to found a new Colony north of British Columbia, to be known as the Territory of Sticken. The boundaries of the Territory, as defined by the Order of the Privy Council, are, the Finlay branch of Peace River and the boundary of British Columbia on the south; the sixty-first parallel of latitude on the north; the Russian possessions on the west; and the one hundred and twenty-fifth meridian of longitude on the east. The Governor of British Columbia is empowered to administer justice and to make laws within the Territory.

The discovery of gold on the Sticken River was first made by a French Canadian, named Choquette, in the Autumn of 1861, who ascended the river with the Indians a distance of one hundred and ninety miles. The reports that he circulated in Victoria caused a rush to that district in the following spring; and during the season at least eight hundred adventurers left Vancouver Island for the mines; of these, numbers were unused to the hardships of a mining life, and did not proceed any further than the mouth of the Sticken. The number of men who reached the mining district, which commences one hundred and fifty miles up the river, did not amount to more than five hundred.

The river has two or three mouths, and its greatest breadth at the principal outlet is about half a mile. For the first one hundred miles the stream has many sloughs and bends, and in some places the water runs with great rapidity. It is navigable for steamers of light draught, for four months in the year, for a distance of one hundred and eighty miles, and the "Flying Dutchman," Capt. Moore, made several trips to Shakesville, a mining town situated on the north bank of the river, one hundred and seventy miles from its mouth. Twenty miles above Shakesville, what is termed the Great Cañon commences, and the river from that point is no longer navigable for canoes, except at very low water, and is even then attended with great risk.

The diggings below the cañon are of the same character as those on the Fraser—the gold being very fine and difficult to save. The bars did not turn out as good as was at first anticipated, only one paying from ten dollars to twenty dollars per day to the rocker. Carpenter's Bar was the best locality struck, and two or three claims yielded about three ounces a day to the rocker. From twenty miles below Shakesville up to the mouth of the Cañon gold is found on the surface of all the bars in small quantities, and the color can be obtained all over the valley and at an elevation of 2,000 feet above the river. In the Cañon and in a small stream known as the North Fork, coarse gold is found on the bed-rock in places, and by some companies ten to fifteen dollars a day was made to the hand. Prospecting parties who packed round the Cañon, which is estimated to be from eighty to one hundred miles long, report a good looking mineral country at the head of it. The river there is deep with a steady current, and the country undulating and covered with luxuriant grass. Enough and suitable timber can be had for boat building. Gold was found on all the bars, and in many places in paying quantities, but as no provisions could be had, no work was done. Cariboo, bear, beaver and grouse were numerous. The geological features of the country most remarkable above Shakesville and around the Cañon are the washed gravel hills, which are quite destitute of timber and of great height, and also the masses of lava and basaltic rocks which are every where met with. This section of the country is very dry and arid during the summer and bush fires are of frequent occurrence.

The upper Sticken Indians pay periodical visits to the North Fork, where they are met by the Indians from the mouth who trade furs from them. A large quantity of valuable furs are annually brought in from a long distance in the interior, and as the lower Indians are rapidly dying off, this trade will shortly be carried on by whites and prove very profitable. The interior Indians are a quiet and well disposed race, but object as yet to work or pack for the whites.

There is but little doubt that the progress of the Sticken country will be slow for some time, as it is very improbable that anything can be done in the way of road making during the ensuing season, or until a revenue be collected. Without passable trails for pack animals the country does not offer much inducement to the miner. It is stated that the Governor will send some surveyors up this season to report on the country, which is represented as being easily traversed. That there is a rich and extensive gold district somewhere on the upper waters of the Sticken is generally admitted, and about eighty miners are wintering in that northern latitude for the purpose of making further explorations next summer. It is worthy of remark that the Finlay branch of Peace River, on which rich deposits of float gold have been found, must head in the same range of mountains as the Sticken, but probably further south. The true course of the latter river from the mouth up for a distance of three hundred miles has been found to be about north-east.

Sticken is distant from Victoria about eight hundred miles. The Russians have shown every disposition to encourage settlements at the mouth, and last summer promised every assistance in their power to parties staying there.
